

1986

M. Vali Siadat LAS, PHD '90 LAS, DA '97 LAS, of Chicago, was the recipient of the 2001 College Teaching Excellence Award presented by the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics last October. He is the chairman of the department of mathematics and co-director of the College PREP program at Richard J. Daley College. Siadat is also the director of the Keystone program that utilizes a combination of psychology, technology, and responsive/adaptive teaching to improve student retention and success in introductory and college algebra classes.

